TERMS OF FIFTH LOAN AGREED TO

Victory Liberty Issue Will Be
Short Term Notes, Maturing
in One to Four Years.

GLASS ACCEPTS PLAN

Maximum Amount Is Seven Billion
Dollars, With Authority Given the
Treasury to Set the Rate of Interest.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house ways and means committee has decided on short term notes, maturing in one to four years, instead of bonds, for sale in the Victory Liberty Loan in April. Assistant Secretary Leffingwell of the treasury told the committee that the plan was acceptable to Secretary Glass.

Representative Kitchin, chairman of the committee, announced that the final draft of the legislation which amends former Liberty bond acts would be ready for committee consideration Friday, and that he expected the measure to pass the house next week. The maximum authorization of the notes was fixed at $7,000,000,000, with authority given Secretary Glass to fix the rates of interest on the four types of notes to be sold. The notes would be redeemable before maturity at the option of the government on one year's notice.

To Issue Four Types.

The four types of notes that may be issued by the treasury and their terms as fixed by the committee are:

First—Exemption from all taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes.

Second—Exempt from all taxation except estate or inheritance taxes and the graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes and excess profits and war profits taxes.

Third—Exempt from the same taxation as those of the second type, except that the interest on $30,000 of notes of this type shall not be subject to the estate and the graduated additional income levies.

Fourth—Exempt, except from estate or inheritance taxes and all income, excess profits and war profits taxes.

Conversion To Be Permitted.
The exemption in all the four types applies to both principal and interest from all present or future tax levies, either federal or local. The privilege of conversion of the bonds of one type to those of another is granted purchasers for a period of six months after their date of issue.

Provision also will be carried in the bill increasing the amount of Treasury certificates that may be issued by the department from $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000.

AIR CONTRACTS CANCELLED

War Department Has Saved Nearly
Half Billion Dollars.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Aircraft contracts totalling $469,000,000 have been cancelled or suspended by the war department since the signing of the armistice. A department statement said 53 per cent of the total represented orders for engines and parts, and 35 per cent for planes and parts.

REDUCING CLERICAL FORCE

War Department Releasing Large
Number of Civilians.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Of about 25,000 civilians employed in Washington by the war department when the armistice was signed, reports made public show that 6,000 have been released. All the departments are rapidly reducing their expanded war forces.

BILL OUTLINES PROCEDURE

Fixes Method of Conducting Senatorial
Election Contests.

Washington, Feb. 20.—A bill designed to establish a method of procedure in senatorial election contests were introduced by Senator Spencer of Missouri and referred to the elections committee.

It provides that witnesses be examined either before federal or state judges, or commissioners appointed by the courts and their testimony transmitted to the senate elections committee, which would pass upon it.

DEFINES BRITISH ATTITUDE

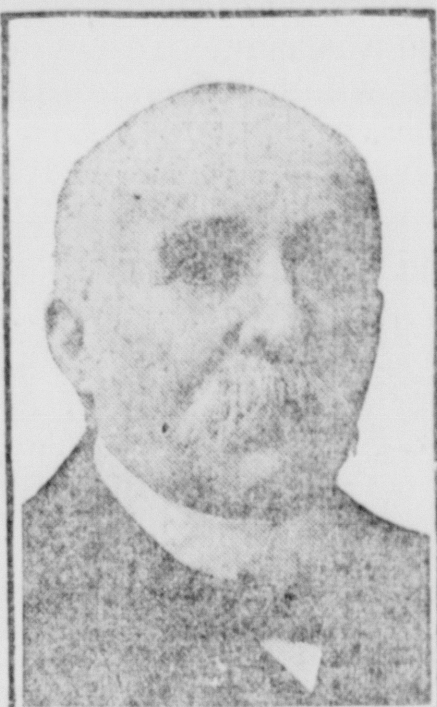

War Minister Says Russia Must Work
Out Own Salvation.

London, Feb. 20.—There is no intention of sending a larger British force to Russia. Winston Churchill, secretary of state for war, said in a speech here. If Russia is to be saved, he added, it must be by her own exertion.

"We are recruiting a new army for two and three years' service at the rate of more than a thousand daily," Colonel Churchill continued. "It is essential in order to disarm Germany and secure the reparation which we are determined to get to maintain a strong and well disciplined army on the Rhine."

PREMIER CLEMENCEAU

French Statesman Wounded by
Alleged Anarchist.

Georges Clemenceau, the French premier, was struck three times by bullets in an attempt to assassinate him in Paris. One bullet entered the right shoulder and lodged under the left shoulder, missing the spinal cord and the lungs. The other two bullets caused scarcely more than abrasions of the skin on the right arm and the right hand.

ACCUSED OF BRIBERY

Two American Naval Officers
Are Under Arrest.

Secretary of the Navy Says That
Third Party Seen Will Be Taken
Into Custody.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Lieutenant Benjamin Davis of Plymouth, Pa., attached to the medical corps, and Ensign Paul Beck of New York, members of the naval reserve force, are under arrest in New York awaiting court martial on charges of bribery and graft in the Third naval district. In making his announcement, Secretary Daniels revealed that the arrest of a third naval officer had been ordered. His name was not made public, however, as the authorities believe this would interfere with the progress of the general inquiry now being conducted by orders of Mr. Daniels.

Lieutenant Davis already has been court martialled and sentenced to three years imprisonment, but approval of this verdict is being withheld, Secretary Daniels said, pending the investigation of 19 other charges against the officers.

Mr. Daniels said that at the first trial the court recommended dismissal of Lieutenant Davis from the navy, but that he had remanded the case for further consideration because the punishment was not severe enough.

Later the three-year sentence was recommended.

BELFAST STRIKE COLLAPSES

Last Batch of Men Decides to Resume
Work.

Belfast, Feb. 20.—The general strike in Belfast which began nearly a month ago, ended with the decision of the remaining 8,000 boilermakers to return to work on the terms laid down by the employers. These terms give the workmen a 47-hour week pending a national settlement of the controversy.

WAGE INCREASES UNLIKELY

Fleet Corporation Will Not Raise Pay of Shipbuilders.

Washington, Feb. 20.—No shipbuilding wage advances are being considered, Director General Pletz of the Emergency Fleet corporation said, referring to Seattle and other places where labor troubles have arisen.

ARMY MOTOR CARS STOLEN

London, Feb. 20.—Thefts of motor cars on a considerable scale from the American army were disclosed at a preliminary hearing at which John Pomerooy and five other men were charged with receiving motor cars, motor trucks, and stores belonging to the American government. Three privates of the American transport service, Thomas Simpson, John Anderson and Leonard Williams, who are to be dealt with by the American military authorities, admitted at the hearing that they stole the cars.

"ETHER COCKTAIL" INVENTED

Westfield, Mass., Feb. 20.—We have with us today the "ether cocktail." In this new drink is combined the peaceful, ethereal atmosphere of a hospital with all the warmth and exhilarating effects of a sojourn in a saloon. Its ingredients are beer, or near beer and a dash of ether. As for tangible results, well, listen to Mrs. Frank Scheidnes, who claims that her husband, the inventor, was consistently drunk during a long period of experimentation in which he produced the cocktail.

Authorities Investigating Shooting of Clemenceau

(By United Press)

Paris Feb. 20.—The French authorities with the co-operation of the intelligence officers of the associated powers were conducting a sweeping investigation today in connection with the shooting of Premier Clemenceau by Emile Cottin, the anarchist yesterday. The officials were working on the theory that the attack may have been only a part of a plot against the principal allied leaders. Clemenceau is reported resting easy, and no serious after effects have developed it is believed. The bullet lodged near the spine in the right shoulder, and may not have to be removed.

New York Feb. 20.—Severe storms sweeping the Atlantic have delayed the arrival here of eighteen transports bearing 20,000 soldiers homeward. Wireless reports say all the ships are weathering the gales, but some had to put in at Bermuda.

Robert J. Benden, the United Press correspondent, wired from the George Washington that President Wilson may not arrive in Boston until Tuesday because of gales.

Administration Leaders Not Worried by Attack

BY L. C. MARTIN,

(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, Feb. 20.—President Wilson and not the senate will speak the words that will decide whether the American people are for or against the league of nations in the opinion of the administration leaders today. They are in no hurry to reply to Senator Poindexter nor will they rush into the arena against other critics who plan to hammer at the league daily from now on.

New Trial Denied Victor Berger

(By United Press)

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Motions for a new trial and a stay of sentence were denied by Federal Judge Landis here today in the case of Victor Berger, socialist congressman-elect from Wisconsin, and four other socialist leaders. Each of the defendants asked to make a statement before receiving sentence and Berger spoke first.

Doughboys Halt German Girls to Search Cart

German generally may hate the American soldiers because of the part they played in winning the war for the allies but one look at this photograph shows that some of them conceal their feelings very well. The picture was taken at Hundsangen just after two doughboys of the American Army of Occupation had halted two German girls. A thorough search of the cart, the girls were drawing showed that its load was perfectly harmless—only cornmeal.

DANIEL WILLARD

B. & O. President Opposes Government Holding Lines.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, before the senate interstate commerce committee opposed government ownership, extension of the present control until 1924 and said he believed if the five-year extension plan was carried out, government ownership would be inevitable.

GERMAN TROOPS READY

Government Fears Anarchist
Outbreak at Weimar.

Mine Throwers and Artillery Have
Been Posted at All Strategic Points.

Zurich, Feb. 20.—Dispatches received here report that government troops, apparently anticipating a Spartacist attack, have occupied the railway station and postoffice at Weimar and have posted artillery and mine throwers at strategic points about the city.

Severe fighting is said to have broken out between the Spartacists and government volunteers troops in Westphalia, while hostilities seem to be imminent in the Rhine districts. The fighting in Westphalia apparently centers around Recklinghausen, Dorsten and Gelsenkirchen.

At Dorsten, government troops employed artillery to retake the bridges over the Lippe. The Spartacists looted several shops and homes in Gelsenkirchen, employing hand grenades to smash in the doors. Heavy losses were reported to have been suffered by both sides in these three towns.

ENGINEER BECAME SLEEPY

Long Hours Caused Serious Wreck at
South Byron, N. J.

Albany, Feb. 20.—The rear end collision on the New York Central railroad at South Byron, Jan. 19, in which 22 passengers lost their lives and 74 were injured, was due to "the human element" in the opinion of the upstate public service commission.

The engineer of the westbound limited train, which crashed into the rear of the Wolverine, had been out of bed for about 17½ hours previous to the accident.

May Stop Willard-Dempsey Fight.

St. Louis, Feb. 20.—That an injunction may be asked to stop the Willard-Dempsey world's heavyweight championship match unless the contractual interests of John R. Reider of New York and Tulsa, Okla., in Jack Dempsey is recognized, was the statement of A. M. Frumberg, an attorney, representing Reider, in a statement to the Post Dispatch. Frumberg said that Reider was taking steps to protect his interests and that New York attorneys were now preparing the necessary law steps.

ADOPTS CONFERENCE REPORT

House Sends Postoffice Bill to Senate
For Final Action.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house adopted the conference report on the new $600,000,000 postoffice appropriation bill after refusing by a vote of 268 to 71 to instruct its conferees not to accept the senate amendment providing $200,000,000 federal co-operation with the states in road construction. The report now awaits action in the senate.

Believes Women's Jobs Are Safe.

New York, Feb. 20.—Dr. George Kirchway, state director of the United States Employment service, expresses the belief that less than 10 per cent of the women who held positions during the war would lose them. "We are not advising employers to release their women workers now that the war is over," he said. "We want them to make room for soldiers and also to retain as many other workers as possible." He predicted the present labor surplus would change to a labor scarcity within six months.

GERMAN PEOPLE HUG ILLUSIONS

Thought Nation Was Right at
Outbreak of War and Cling to That Belief.

HARDEN FLAYS KAISER

Noted Berlin Editor Says Former
Emperor Kept Alive Fires of National Hatred and Advocated
Brutal Warfare.

Brussels, Feb. 20.—In an interview in Le Soir of Brussels, Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft of Berlin, says the German people were misled as to the cause of the war. They believed at the outbreak that Germany was in the right and even believe now that right was on their side.

Emperor William, Harden declared, was drawn into the war against his own wishes, but once hostilities began it was he who kept alive national hatred and was responsible for the methods of warfare for which the world would never forgive Germany.

"People Did Not Know."

"Our people," said Harden, "did not know and do not now know. They loyally believed that right was on their side. If they had not they would not have fought and suffered as they did. They believed in a coalition against Germany. They did not understand that Great Britain, France and Russia had no other object than to protect themselves against the adverse designs of the kaiser. They did not understand that the violation of Belgium was a crime which turned the enlightened universe against Germany. They are still certain that if Germany had not invaded Belgium, Great Britain and France were ready to do so. Personally, I do not think France ever thought of such a thing, and if she had Great Britain would not have permitted it."

"But it was an old idea of the Kaiser. In one of his outbursts he once said to Leopold II, if there is war I shall go through Belgium. If she resists, Belgium will not exist any longer. It is the 30 years of reign of William II, which carried responsibility for the war. It is the teaching which has poisoned youth. It is the spirit of militarism that has been soaked into the people."

"Kaiser William was drawn into it himself, perhaps against his own sentiments; he was not warlike; he was not even courageous and I know that he did struggle to conquer his personal feelings before he could be brought to sign the mobilization decree."

CALLS PROGRAM MONSTROUS

Representative Fess Attacks Society of Nations.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Criticism of the constitution of the league of nations was opened in the house in an address by Representative Fess of Ohio, Republican, who declared the league plan was "monstrous" and full of vicious possibilities.

"Just as soon as the American people shall grasp the vicious possibilities herein included," said Mr. Fess, "there will be such a revolution of sentiment aroused that any man who will subscribe to this perpetual surrender of this republic's future to a vote of foreign nations will be, as he should be repudiated as an enemy to the spirit and genius of American institutions."

HASTILY CALLED TO PARIS

British Premier Will Leave for French
Capital at Once.

London, Feb. 20.—David Lloyd George, the prime minister, received an urgent summons to return to Paris and will start for the French capital after receiving the delegates of the miners' conference.

Sir Robert S. Hornes, minister of labor, was to have attended the conference with the miners, but owing to illness, was compelled to suspend all negotiations looking to cessation of the industrial unrest.

JUGO-SLAVS ASK INQUIRY

Want Dalmatian Question Investigated
by Peace Committee.

Paris, Feb. 20.—When the Jugo-Slavs' claims for territory on the eastern shores of the Adriatic came before the supreme council of the peace conference it was tentatively decided that they should be referred to the committee to which was intrusted the examination of the Rumanian demands, says a Havas report.

Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister, objected to this plan, declaring that treaties dealing with those territories had been concluded between Italy, France and Great Britain in February, 1918. He said that these treaties were still in existence and consequently the signatories alone were qualified to modify them, acting in agreement.

At the Best Tomorrow

"Another Polly" of the "Circus" That was the ejaculation of one of New York's most prominent showmen following a private screening of Mae Marsh's newest Goldwyn picture, "The Racing Strain." And Goldwyn is firm in the belief that the millions who were enthralled by Margaret Mayo's "classic of the big tops" will find the new Goldwyn-Mae Marsh production no less appealing and entertaining.

"The Racing Strain," a romance of Kentucky and Saratoga, was written expressly to suit the peculiar talents of the vivacious star by Tex Charvate, author of Geraldine Farrar's first Goldwyn production, "The Turn of the Wheel," and of "Peck's Bad Girl," and a "A Perfect 35," Mabel Normand's recent comedy triumphs.

The Best Foundation for Stylish Cloths

No outer garment, however well cut or tailored, can fit over illfitting under-garments. A Munsing Union Suit, because of the perfect way in which it fits and covers the figure, is the ideal underwear and is preferred every by "women who know."

The fact that we sell more and more Munsingwear union suits every year is significant. There must be a reason. In truth, there are several. In addition to the perfect way in which it fits, Munsingwear is unusually fine in quality, remarkably durable, and surprising in its ability to stand trip after trip to the laundry without losing its shapeliness, perfection of fit or comfort.

RIDICULE GERMAN THREATS

London Papers Say Teutons Are Fend of Bold Talk.

London, Feb. 20.—The report that the German cabinet had decided not to sign renewal of the armistice is the subject of comment in London newspapers. They call the action of the German government "a comedy" and say it was well staged. They say Germany always has had faith in the policy of threats and bold talk and that failure of this attitude in the war has not prevented her from continuing it in defeat.

Rugby Football.

At the famous school of Rugby, England, originated that form of football, now bearing the name of the school. An inscription, at Rugby reads: "This stone commemorates the exploit of William Webb Ellis, who, with a fine disregard for the rules of football, played in his third, first took the ball in his arms and ran with it, thus originating the distinctive feature of the rugby game. OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil is included in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. At the first sign that your kidneys are not working properly, go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisons, to cleanse the blood, to absorb into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

At the Best Today

As Billy Holliday, "the champion drink-mixer," George M. Cohan, the famous actor-manager, preaches temperance in his latest photoplay, "Hit-the-Trail Holiday," which is to be shown at the Best theatre today. Mr. Cohan imitates the celebrated evangelist Billy Sunday, whose remarkable pulpit utterances are well known.

"I regard Billy Sunday as one of the greatest men of the day," said Mr. Cohan recently. "It was his enthusiasm, logic, ginger and magnetism that prompted me to write 'Hit-the-Trail Holiday,' which was produced at the Astor Theatre in New York in September, 1915.

Billy Holliday is an ardent prohibitionist in the picture, but one of his reasons for being so is because he loves the beautiful daughter of the prohibition leader. He is excellently supported by fine players. The scenario was written by John Emerson and Anita Loos and the director was Marshall Neilan.

Teach Children to Love Books.

Happy are the children of this day and age in that they have so many good books; in that if they cannot buy, they certainly can borrow from the public libraries. Here is one truth, a very simple truth, that all parents are under obligation to teach their children—that if they can learn to love books they can always forget the irritations of men and things; they can lay aside cares and still their passions; they can put their worries and disappointments to sleep.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Ludwig Larson of Long Lake Township Entertained on 70th Birthday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dahl, 605 Maple street N. E., was the scene of a pleasant birthday party on Tuesday evening when Mrs. Oden Naustvald of Walker, Mrs. Julius Dahl and Mrs. O. D. Larson entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner for Mrs. Ludwig of South Long Lake, the occasion being her 70th birthday anniversary. She was presented with a beautiful rocker. A large birthday cake decorated with 70 candles was the center of the dinner table. Covers were laid for seventeen. Among the guests were her four children, Mrs. Oden Naustvald, Mrs. Julius Dahl, Ole D. Larson and Charles Larson.

Two little grandchildren of Mrs. Larson also celebrated their birthdays being George Dahl and Eugene Larson.

An enjoyable evening was spent in conversation and music. The guests wished her many happy returns of the day.

Walled Town Copied for Nazimova

A famous walled town of Morocco was reproduced for "Eye for Eye," the newest Nazimova production, which will be the Park theatre's attraction Feb. 21-22. The smallest details were so faithfully copied that those who know the great African desert will recognize the landmarks immediately.

This wonderful set was the combined work of Art Director Menesier and Technical Director Edward J. Shulter and takes up the entire floor space of the Nazimova New York studios. The scene depicts a bazaar and market place. A group of square white-plastered houses with red-tiled roofs surround an open square—on the left the French Embassy—on the right the market place filled with picturesque Oriental stalls of every description—Arabs with their striped burnouses, bare-legged vendors of fruit and wines sitting cross-legged behind their wares, drowsy and nodding, except when some possible purchaser would bring them to the inevitable haggling and bargaining without which no Oriental ever sells anything. A fountain stands in the market place where women and girls come to fill their flasks, made from the skins of goats. Small boys play up and down the broad steps leading to the fountain while pigeons wheel and circle above the motley throng. Here and there a beggar squats in a shady corner whining his everlasting cry for "backsheesh." Through a narrow street winds a caravan on its way to the desert beyond the edge of the city—the slow, swaying camels heavily laden with valuable wares from the town.

Suddenly a shiver of expectancy seems to ripple through the throng and all eyes are strained toward a square block by which a tall Arab is standing. Around him can be seen a score or more of girls—cowering and afraid—the slaves who are to be sold to the highest bidder. Hassouna, played by Nazimova, is among them—the most beautiful of them all.

As this passionate and primitive girl of the desert Nazimova displays an artistry which has never been surpassed.

War Work Buildings Will Not Lie Empty

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 20.—Temporary buildings housing the emergency wartime agencies are being turned over to the regularly established government departments as fast as they are vacated, under orders of the war department.

The new war industries board building, which was completed after the signing of the armistice, will be turned over to the treasury department. It is located about three blocks from the main treasury building.

The department of labor will take over "Food Administration building No. 2," which has been vacated. The war department is now occupying the fuel administration annex building in the Potomac Park section.

The bureau of the census soon will move into the building known as "D," only a few blocks from the Capitol, and a portion of building "C" in the same neighborhood will be turned over to the department of agriculture.

Australia Has Zinc

(By United Press)

Melbourne, Jan. 27 (By Mail).—That Australia has ore deposits producing the finest grade of zinc in the world, and in quantity to compare favorably with other countries, is revealed in a report received by Acting Prime Minister Watt from the Electrolytic Zinc Co., one of the organizations of the commonwealth for organizing the metal resources of the continent.

Although the British empire contains a great portion of the more easily accessible zinc ores of the world, it produced only a very small part of the 195,000 tons of primary spelter or zinc consumed in the United Kingdom alone in 1913. Australia before the war shipped annually zinc concentrates equivalent to 200,000 tons of spelter for supply of which England, France and Italy are now almost dependent upon America.

QUACK, QUACK, QUACK!

(By United Press)

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 18.—Ben Woolner, former city attorney, is being sought out by many hunters who wish to inspect his "duckwater."

Woolner claims to have originated a method for attracting wild ducks. He allowed a duck to dictate into his phonograph a dictating machine, and then installed the machine with its new record near his post in the marsh.

Wild ducks mobilized from all points of the compass when Woolner's duck began quacking, and Woolner claims to have shot the legal limit in 15 minutes.

Afghan Music.

The Afghans have a penchant for musical instruments, and the wealthier classes import some costly makes, though occasionally their manner of using them is somewhat startling. An Afghan nobleman sent for a grand piano, and had all the lower part cut off, as he found it most convenient to play it squatting on the floor.

FIGHTS ON AGAINST THE TONNAGE TAX

Cuyuna Range Mining Interests Have to Make Fight Every Two Years, It Seems

SOCIAL NEWS OF CROSBY GIVEN

Lieut. Al. F. Victor of Lindstrom, formerly of Brainerd and Crosby, Visited Range

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 19.—Cuyuna iron range interests are represented in the hearings held on the tonnage tax bill and there is nothing new about the situation. It seems the range is doomed to have to go through this proceeding every two years when a new legislature sits. Good arguments advanced in the past must be repeated and impressed on the new legislature.

Lieut. Al. F. Victor, of Lindstrom, formerly of Brainerd and Crosby, was visiting in the village. He is a mining engineer of experience and saw service in the war over there.

Mrs. Herman J. Linnemann visited in Brainerd.

Mrs. O. P. Erickson visited Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus and other friends in Brainerd.

Mrs. O. H. Sjodin of Aitkin visited friends in Crosby this week.

Mrs. Smart entertained the Presbyterian Ladies Aid at her home.

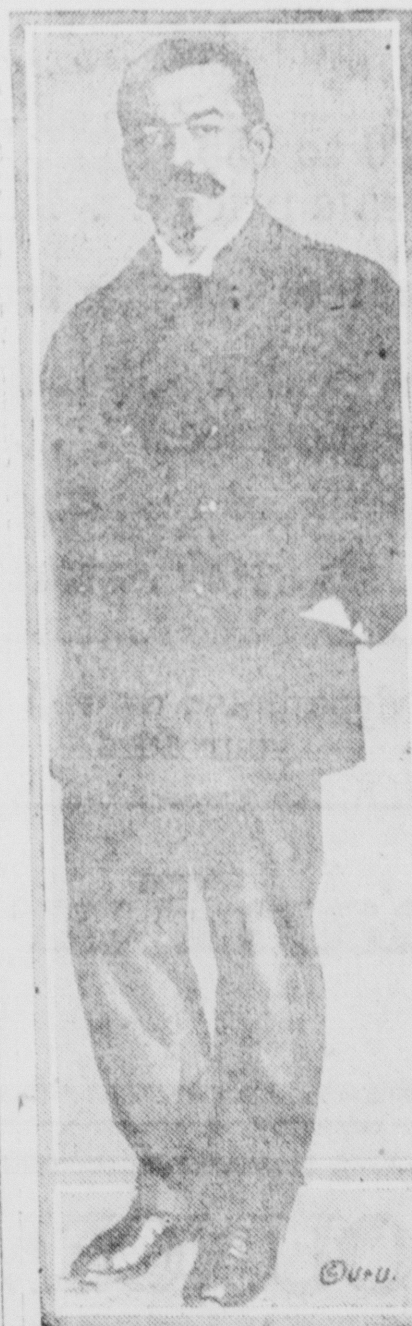

Mrs. C. L. Benedict and Mrs. Wm. Bergman entertained the Methodist Ladies Aid society.

The Misses Martha and Nellie Nelson were visiting in Minneapolis.

Crosby Elks will attend the Feb. 26 meeting of the Brainerd Elks lodge.

Lieut. A. A. MacKay, who was in the Canadian Engineers corps in service in Europe, has returned home. Mrs. MacKay and the children met him in Quebec, Canada, where they had been visiting relatives.

She'd Be A Beauty If---

Don't you know lots of girls who would be real beauties if they only had good complexions? There are many of them. Sallowiness is the beauty destroyer. Keep the bowels free from food-waste, avoid constipation and sallowiness disappears.

Your druggist has a product called SALINOS, which will completely empty the bowels, including the lower bowel where most of the poisons are formed.

It is a decidedly pleasant product to use, pleasant both in taste and action. Get a bottle. Take it when you first get up. Do this every few days for a time and note the improvement not only in complexion, but in health, too.

COD KIMBALL ON WINTER OF 1877

Mr. Kimball Has Lived in State 59 Years, 1877 Winter Only One Comparing With Present One

NO SLEDS USED IN THE WOODS

No Frost in Ground, Little Snow, Never a Team Crossed Any Lake all Winter

A. T. Kimball, affectionately known as "Cod," has written the Dispatch about the winter of 1877 which appears to have been a warm one, full of Florida breezes, snakes running around in the grass, violets poking up their heads while the poor loggers tore their hair and cursed things generally. Mr. Kimball writes as follows:

Editor Brainerd Dispatch: I have seen two or three pieces in your paper this winter what an exceptionally warm winter it has been in a great many years.

Now the writer has lived in Minnesota fifty-nine winters and in all that time I don't know of but one that was warmer than this one and that was 1877. I was working in the pines 45 miles north of Brainerd on Mitchell lake. No frost was in the ground and very little snow.

The firms of Patten & Frey, Campbell & Ami Gold, Clough Bros., Charley Martin with Sam Simpson as foreman, and N. P. Clark of St. Cloud were all logging up here on Pine river waters. They set up their sleds in the latter part of the fall but never hooked onto them, used go-devils all winter. Never a team crossed a lake all winter, had to cut landings on the shore of the lakes, creeks and rivers to land the logs. The most of their logging was around the shores of Mitchell, Eagle, Pine, Daggett, Cross, Rush, Trout and White Fish and the brooks and rivers.

It was what they used to leave before that, called it scrubby, only took the best and that was what was back from the water.

But this winter got them; they had to take it or go back to Minneapolis, headquarters for most all lumbermen those days. There were 99 million drove out of Big Pine river and its tributaries that spring from the shore logging, almost one-third of the cut for that year that was driven down the Mississippi to Minneapolis.

Geo. Nutter and I crossed Eagle lake the 18th day of March with a boat and hung a boom across the narrow to the west arm to keep the logs from coming out into the main lake. Sam Simpson commenced to drive on Crooked lake the 25th of March and was down with Patten & Frey in Mitchell lake the first of April. The writer killed a streaked snake the first day of March about 1 1/2 feet long and carried it one mile to camp to show it to the rest of the lumberjacks so they would not call me a d---. It was on a side hill facing the south and he crawled out of his hole and was lying on some dry leaves in the sun. The log did not get to be over three or four inches thick at the most any time on the lakes all winter. There are a great many now living in Crow Wing county would never know that we ever had such a winter unless some of the old timers that were here at the time would make it known.

Yours respectfully, COD KIMBALL.

The lamb has been christened FEBY and is a healthy, vigorous animal. It stands over four hands high and is gifted with a constantly increasing appetite.

BRD. COOPERATIVE CREAMERY MEETING

85 to 100 Farmers Present, Officers are Elected, Reports made on Business Done

JAMES SORENSON IS PRESIDENT

E. E. Taylor Secretary-Manager—$12,812.21 Business in Three Months of 1918

The annual meeting of the Brainerd Cooperative Creamery Association took place on Tuesday, February 18, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The meeting was largely attended there being from eighty-five to one hundred farmers present.

The report given by the secretary, E. E. Taylor, for business done during October, November and December shows that the creamery has made a splendid start. A total of $12,812.21 worth of business had been done during the three months when the cream produced is much less in quantity than the rest of the year.

The amount of local sales as shown by the statement speaks well for the quality of butter being made at the creamery, and shows that local merchants appreciate the value of the new enterprise. $7,180 worth of butter has been sold locally to merchants while only $4,060 worth has been shipped to foreign markets.

The following directors were elected for the coming year:

President—Jas. Sorenson, Merrifield.

Vice President—C. F. Peterson, Long Lake.

Secretary and Manager—E. E. Taylor, Brainerd.

Treasurer—Aug. Nelson, Oak Lawn.

Directors—P. B. Nettleton, Crow Wing; G. S. McCulloch, Oak Lawn; O. F. Wendt, Long Lake.

More stock was subscribed for at the meeting and a large number of stockholders who had interest due them, freely donated it to the creamery association. The following statement shows the business done for the first three months:

Pounds of cream received, 56,174; average test, 31.73%; pounds butterfat received, 16,828; pounds butterfat sold in cream, 336; pounds butterfat manufactured into butter, 16,492; pounds of butter manufactured, 20,233; pounds overrun, 3741. $2,234; average price received per pound for butter, 61.56 cents; average price paid for butterfat, 67.51 cents.

At the Best Monday

To possess a smile and be happy after spending two years in the trenches "over there" facing death every moment and to be ultimately permanently disabled by a Hun explosive bullet which incapacitate one from further active service in the cause of democracy, is the experience allotted to few men. This was the experience of Harold R. Peat, better known through his lecture and book as "Private Peat," and his story has been admirably pictured in the Paramount-Ayrtcraft Special picture, "Private Peat" in which Mr. Peat plays the leading role and which will be shown at the Best theatre next Monday.

COMMUNICATION

To the Brainerd Dispatch:

From the columns of your paper we learn that the Rev. Mr. McCrae of Wadena put forth a volley of politics, absurdities and falsehoods and like the unskilled book-agent ties on a tag and calls the contents religion. Had the reverend gentleman avoided the Irish political question, we would grant him the pardon that those of his mental calibre receive who come to and leave town, but as he did not we have to correct him for his folly. Mr. McCrae has neither a grasp of the literal meaning of Sinn Fein nor of the spirit of it. Sinn Fein does not mean we "for" ourselves as he states. Those words are of the nominative case and not the Irish dative, so Mr. McCrae if you ever were acquainted with the elementary parts of grammar you would have known better than to translate Sinn Fein as you do. Literally the words of the Gaelic mean "we ourselves" or the government of ourselves, beautifully rendered by President Wilson "self determination" or as the Catholic theologian Suarez says, "government by the just consent of the governed."

In reference to the case of Ireland Mr. McCrae's logic is very defective. Logic as religion should express truth and truth is not contradictory. If Sinn Fein as the "Irish emigrant" Rev. McCrae states meant we "for" ourselves, how then, except according to his unsound logic, could those Sinn Feiners be hobnobbing with the Germans? The only conclusion is Rev. McCrae's logic has caught the "flu" germ and is in a state of delirium.

Mr. McCrae evidently is no American, his only his false logic has caused him to think so, he is exactly what he states of Ireland, a "yellow stream in Britain." Henceforth I would advise Mr. McCrae to stick to his religion if he has any, and not go from the frying pan into the fire, but should he wish to discuss Irish questions we born in Ireland as he, but thank the Lord naturalized unlike him, now good Americans who stand for justice truth and patriotism, challenge the offender to a discussion upon any Irish subject from the days of Brian Boru to the Irish rising of 1916, and we will show Mr. McCrae that never in a real Irishman was there a yellow streak—that is to be found only in a fungoid.

Farmers' Club Met at the Home of F.

F. Peterson, Good Roads Resolutions

The South Long Lake Farmers' Club met at C. F. Peterson with the house filled to its capacity and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

"We, as one small bunch of farmers ask the powers that be, that if by setting the clock ahead an hour they are unable to remove the morning dampness an hour earlier to correspond, why leave the old clock alone."

Another subject of importance which was discussed, was good roads. We finally tried to draw up a resolution as follows:

"Whereas the majority of all people in all occupations seem to be demanding better roads,

Whereas it is difficult to build and maintain a road with an unclean roadside,

Whereas it being in every property owners power to keep his roadside clean (the same cropped every year will more than reimburse him for all labor expended on same.)

Be it therefore resolved that this club goes on record favoring good roads, clean roadsides and the maintenance of same and asks the assistance of all citizens, town, country and state that this movement may be speeded up."

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

Where Most Sickness Begins
and Ends

BY FRANKLIN DUANE, M. D.

It can be said broadly that most human ills begin in the stomach and end in the stomach. Good digestion means good health, and poor digestion means bad health. The minute your stomach fails to properly dispose of the food you eat, troubles begin to crop out in various forms. Indigestion and dyspepsia are the commonest forms, but thin, impure blood, headaches, backaches, pimples, blotches, dizziness, belching, coated tongue, weakness, poor appetite, sleeplessness, coughs, colds and bronchitis are almost as common. There is but one way to have good health, and that is to put and keep your stomach in good order. This is easy to do if you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and is so safe to take, for it is made of roots and herbs. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., stands behind this standard medicine, and it is good to know that so distinguished a physician is proud to have his name identified with it. When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that these remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

If piles are torturing you, get and use Pierce's Anodyne Pile Ointment. The quick relief it gives is hard to believe until you try it. If constipated, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken while using Anodyne Pile Ointment. Few indeed are the cases which these splendid remedies will not relieve and usually overcome. They are so good that nearly every drug store has them for sale.

FRENCH PREMIER
BULLET VICTIMClemenceau Wounded in Shoulder
by Assassin, Though Injury
Is Not Serious.

ASSAILANT IS ARRESTED

Statesman Was Leaving Home for War Office When Attacked—Crowd Quickly Gathers and Mauls the Assailant.

Paris, Feb. 20.—As he was entering his automobile, Georges Clemenceau, France's aged but vigorous premier, was shot and slightly wounded.

Five shots were fired by the assassin and it was at first reported that the premier had been wounded in the head. It developed later, however, that the wound was in M. Clemenceau's shoulder and he apparently is not dangerously hurt. The shooting took place at 8:55 a. m. as the premier was leaving his house in the Rue Franklin to go to the war office.

The assassin was an ordinary looking man, dressed as a workman. Five shots were fired, of which one took effect in the premier's shoulder. The assailant was arrested.

WALKS UNASSISTED.

Clemenceau walked into his house without assistance after he had been shot. Colonel E. M. House received a telephone call from Clemenceau's residence, stating it was impossible for the premier to keep an engagement with him set for 10 a. m. It was stated that the wound was "very slight."

Assailant Believed Russian.

It was learned at the city hall that the assassin of Premier Clemenceau was Emile Cottin, 25 years old, born at Creil. The man said his home was in the Montroux quarter of Paris. The police do not believe the papers he possesses belong to him and are inclined to think him a Russian.

Policeman Goursat, who was wounded in the right eye, although not seriously, by one of the assassin's shots, said that Premier Clemenceau rushed up to the assassin and grappled with him.

Age Makes Difference.

The premier's wound is not regarded as dangerous in itself, but it is felt that there might be serious consequences from it considering the age and infirmities of the victim.

However, it was officially announced that M. Clemenceau was not seriously wounded. The bullet inflicted a flesh wound on the inner side of the right arm near the shoulder, it was announced.

News of the attack on Clemenceau spread rapidly through the city. There were excited comments on the boulevards, in the cafes and public buildings.

Cattin Mauls by Crowd.

A policeman grabbed Cattin. Another man, whose identity is not known, rushed to Cattin's assistance. A crowd quickly gathered and attacked the two men, who were battling with the policeman. Cattin was badly mauled.

Barber Grappled With Assailant.

One of the witnesses of the shooting, Henry Moulin, a barber's assistant, said that when he heard the first shot he believed it was the Americans firing in the air "as they are in the habit of doing," he said. Moulin rushed out of his shop when he saw what was happening, however, crying: "They have assassinated Clemenceau!" He closed with the assailant, Moulin added, and the man threw away his revolver and held up his hands. Walters from a nearby restaurant joined in holding the assassin.

Delay in Peace Seen.

As M. Clemenceau had in hand personally certain subjects now under negotiation, it follows that so far as these are concerned there must be a suspension of activity for the time being. These subjects affect the whole plan of the conference's operation, inasmuch as they relate to the consummation of an early treaty of peace.

Why Germany Accepted Terms.

Berlin, Feb. 20.—The German government's reasons for accepting the stringent terms for the renewal of the armistice as outlined in a Weimar dispatch to the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung is that a renewal of military operations following refusal to sign would lead to the complete moral collapse of the German people. The conviction prevailed that refusal to sign or dilatory treatment of the proposals would meet with an immediate advance of the Allied armies beyond the Rhine.

Weeks Bill Will Be Tabled.

Washington, Feb. 20.—An informal agreement was reached by the senate banking and currency committee that no action could be taken at this session on the bill of Senator Weeks of Massachusetts to abolish the office of comptroller of the currency.

League of Nations Flayed.

Berlin, Feb. 20.—The project for a league of nations has evoked sharp criticism in the German press generally. Some of the newspapers demand that Germany refuse to have anything to do with such a league. Professor Schuecking, vice president of the German association for a league of nations, believes, however, that Germany should be permitted to join the league simultaneously with the other powers. Germany, he argues, must be heard regarding changes in the constitution of the league.

Japanese Wrestlers.

Because of their enormous stature and girth it has often been assumed by foreigners that Japanese wrestlers are a race apart, a strange little group of native giants handed down from antiquity. As a matter of fact the wrestlers, recruited from the fishing, farming and forester classes, have splendid physique to begin with, and become strong and muscular through their long training and the encouragement that is given to their voracious appetites. Friends are very fond of giving them big banquets and are amused to see how much they can eat. One prominent trainer, when invited by his backers to a dinner, took all his students along with him, saying, "All my followers come along with me who can drink a gallon of sake apiece." There is a touch of the Rabelaisian in it, especially when one contrasts it with the usual foreign impression of the dainty tea-sipping, cherry-blossom Japanese.

DON'T WANT MANUAL LABOR

Senator Lenroot Stirs the Southerners to Protest—American Army Engineers Are Tired of Making Roads for the French.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Employment of soldiers who are discharged from the military service is one of the questions that have given rise to a great deal of discussion and there seems to be considerable difficulty in solving it. The general belief is that there is employment for any number of men at this time. At least it is said that there never was such a demand for labor of a certain kind, but it is manual labor. A great many people are having difficulty in finding men to do work and the agricultural districts, according to reports, offer plenty of jobs for men if they are willing to take them.

During the debate on the good roads proposition in the post office appropriation bill it developed that a large number of soldiers were being used on roads in states where there are large encampments. It was claimed that this good roads appropriation would afford employment for soldiers, although quite a number of senators scouted the idea that the returned soldiers are going to work as day laborers on the roads. On account of the statement that soldiers still held in the service were being employed on roads a provision was inserted in the bill which makes it mandatory to pay these soldiers the same wages that other men receive for that work, rather than the $30 a month they draw as privates.

Senator Thomas of Colorado told the senate of a soldier who came to him and talked about the many soldiers that were now out of jobs. "They are not looking for jobs," was the comment of the soldier; "they want positions. There are plenty of jobs." It is quite evident that these soldiers do not want to go back to the farm or to drudgery work in shops and mines. It is also apparent that a great many who were formerly in the country districts would like to remain in the cities. All these things are going to make it difficult to find employment for the soldiers when they are discharged.

Once in a great while there may be a little sectional row between the East and West, but it never amounts to anything. The real sectional differences which crop out in debates from time to time are those between the North and the South. Only recently there was a flurry of some proportions caused by a remark of Senator Lenroot to the effect that Southern senators were somewhat irresponsible as to the size of appropriations, particularly when a large amount of the money was expended in the South and nearly all of it raised by taxes in the North. This aroused the ire of several Southerners, who did not mince words in expressing themselves against the utterance of such sentiments in the senate. Lenroot's words were that "representatives in both houses of congress from the Southern states have very little responsibility on a national standpoint concerning expenditures, providing only the appropriations shall be expended in their own states."

Senator Fletcher of Florida in replying said that he "could understand how something of that sort might be said on the stump in the heat of a political campaign for political purposes, but a statement coming like that in the senate goes beyond all bounds of propriety or of justice and is wholly unwarranted."

Although Theodore Roosevelt is dead the big stick which he invented has not retired from business, according to Martin Dies, the independent Democratic member of the house from Texas, who has been saying just what he thinks. It was while the naval bill was under discussion and the very large naval program was the immediate question before the house that Dies remarked: "The discussions of the bill and remarks of the chairman of the committee on naval affairs rather disclosed the fact that we need the enactment of this naval program, the largest in the history of the world, because we want to go into the league of nations with a bigger stick than anybody else who comes into the league."

A letter received from a soldier in Europe connected with the engineers voices the discontent which has been expressed by many private soldiers who have returned. He says he has been 11 months in France and although the war is ended they are still working on the same old job, breaking stones for roadmaking. This letter was shown to a man in the senate who said it was altogether likely that a great many of the American expeditionary force would be retained in France and would help to restore the roads and do a lot of work in rebuilding France before they were brought home. While this may be a very laudable undertaking, it is almost sure to cause a great deal of complaint among the troops.

RICH LAND YIELDS LITTLE

Mosquito Coast Might Be Made One of
the Most Productive Regions
of the Earth.

If Columbus could return today to the Mosquito coast which he once discovered he would find it only slightly changed after four centuries. Columbus was so favorably impressed by his visit to Nicaragua that he attempted to establish a settlement on the Mosquito coast. His project fell through, not, as might be supposed, by reason of the name of the region, for that name was not given it by Columbus, but is a corruption of the name of the Indian tribe that inhabits the strip of land.

Mosquito coast has disappointed other promoters of colonies also, and refuses to be turned into a bustling commonplace trade center. It has made a few concessions in the way of small towns which seem composed of accidental collections of huts. Elsewhere its rivers sweep down from the protecting mountain ranges at the back and flow at will throughout the level lowland of the coast strip. As they near the shore they break into wide lagoons, marsh bound and desolate. The country is like the Nile valley in fertility of soil and flooded plains, but unlike that intensively cultivated district in productivity. There is much casual farming on the dry land of the coast, and the results arouse wonder as to what might be done by a middle-western farmer with an inexhaustible fund of energy and resourcefulness.—"Niksal" in Chicago Daily News.

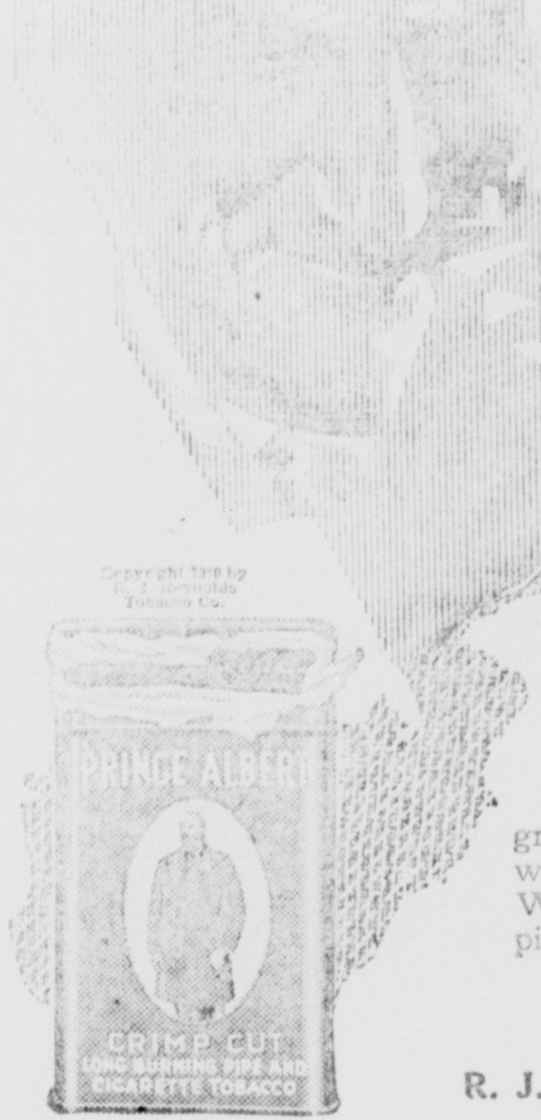

End of Fighting Gallies.

In the sixteenth century European civilization was menaced by the Turks. Moslem pirates were the peril of the seas, of which they were fast gaining control. This danger was averted and destroyed by Don Juan, commander of the Spanish fleet, and his allies, the Italian squadrons and the Venetian and Neapolitan fleets, at a naval battle with the Turks in the bay of Lepanto. The capture of the enemy's flagship after the battle had raged an hour and a half, gave Don Juan assurance of victory, so he hoisted the consecrated banner of the Holy league at the mast of the conquered galley, where it could be seen both by friend and enemy. The result was as Don Juan expected—exultation on the part of the Christians and depression and discouragement on the part of the Turks.

After a heavy loss on both sides the Turkish armada was destroyed and Don Juan and his galley, the Reale, were the masters of the Mediterranean. Civilization was saved and the Reale became a ship of destiny. But at Lepanto was sung the swan song of the galley; henceforth the sailing vessels with their wind-tossed canvases were to rule the seas.

French in South America.

Throughout South America French is almost universally read; editions of the classics are in most homes, and book stores are filled with modern French writers of prose or verse, both in translation and in the original.

TERMS OF FIFTH LOAN AGREED TO

Victory Liberty Issue Will Be
Short Term Notes, Maturing
in One to Four Years.

GLASS ACCEPTS PLAN

Maximum Amount Is Seven Billion
Dollars, With Authority Given the
Treasury to Set the Rate
of Interest.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house ways and means committee has decided on short term notes, maturing in one to four years, instead of bonds, for sale in the Victory Liberty Loan in April. Assistant Secretary Leffingwell of the treasury told the committee that the plan was acceptable to Secretary Glass.

Representative Kitchin, chairman of the committee, announced that the final draft of the legislation which amends former Liberty bond acts would be ready for committee consideration Friday, and that he expected the measure to pass the house next week. The maximum authorization of the notes was fixed at $7,000,000,000, with authority given Secretary Glass to fix the rates of interest on the four types of notes to be sold. The notes would be redeemable before maturity at the option of the government on one year's notice.

To Issue Four Types.
The four types of notes that may be issued by the treasury and their terms as fixed by the committee are:

First—Exemption from all taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes.

Second—Exempt from all taxation except estate or inheritance taxes and the graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes and excess profits and war profits taxes.

Third—Exempt from the same taxation as those of the second type, except that the interest on $30,000 of notes of this type shall not be subject to the estate and the graduated additional income levies.

Fourth—Exempt, except from estate or inheritance taxes and all income, excess profits and war profits taxes.

Conversion To Be Permitted.
The exemption in all the four types applies to both principal and interest from all present or future tax levies, either federal or local. The privilege of conversion of the bonds of one type to those of another is granted purchasers for a period of six months after their date of issue.

Provision also will be carried in the bill increasing the amount of Treasury certificates that may be issued by the department from $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000.

AIR CONTRACTS CANCELLED

War Department Has Saved Nearly
Half Billion Dollars.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Aircraft contracts totalling $459,000,000 have been cancelled or suspended by the war department since the signing of the armistice. A department statement said 53 per cent of the total represented orders for engines and parts, and 35 per cent for planes and parts.

REDUCING CLERICAL FORCE

War Department Releasing Large
Number of Civilians.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Of about 25,000 civilians employed in Washington by the war department when the armistice was signed, reports made public show that 6,000 have been released. All the departments are rapidly reducing their expanded war forces.

BILL OUTLINES PROCEDURE

Fixes Method of Conducting Senatorial
Election Contests.

Washington, Feb. 20.—A bill designed to establish a method of procedure in senatorial election contests were introduced by Senator Spencer of Missouri and referred to the elections committee.

It provides that witnesses be examined either before federal or state judges, or commissioners appointed by the courts and their testimony transmitted to the senate elections committee, which would pass upon it.

DEFINES BRITISH ATTITUDE

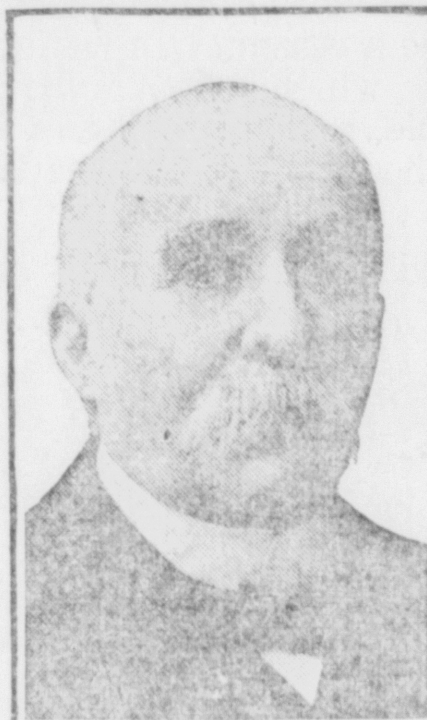

War Minister Says Russia Must Work
Out Own Salvation.

London, Feb. 20.—There is no intention of sending a larger British force to Russia, Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, said in a speech here. If Russia is to be saved, he added, it must be by her own exertion.

"We are recruiting a new army for two and three years' service at the rate of more than a thousand daily," Colonel Churchill continued. "It is essential in order to disarm Germany and secure the reparation which we are determined to get to maintain a strong and well disciplined army on the Rhine."

PREMIER CLEMENCEAU

French Statesman Wounded by
Alleged Anarchist.

Georges Clemenceau, the French premier, was struck three times by bullets in an attempt to assassinate him in Paris. One bullet entered the right shoulder and lodged under the left shoulder, missing the spinal cord and the lungs. The other two bullets caused scarcely more than abrasions of the skin on the right arm and the right hand.

ACCUSED OF BRIBERY

Two American Naval Officers
Are Under Arrest.

Secretary of the Navy Says That
Third Party Soon Will Be Taken
Into Custody.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Lieutenant Benjamin Davis of Plymouth, Pa., attached to the medical corps, and Ensign Paul Beck of New York, members of the naval reserve force, are under arrest in New York awaiting court martial on charges of bribery and graft in the Third naval district. In making his announcement, Secretary Daniels revealed that the arrest of a third naval officer had been ordered. His name was not made public, however, as the authorities believe this would interfere with the progress of the general inquiry now being conducted by orders of Mr. Daniels.

Lieutenant Davis already has been court martialled and sentenced to three years imprisonment, but approval of this verdict is being withheld, Secretary Daniels said, pending the investigation of 10 other charges against the officers.

Mr. Daniels said that at the first trial the court recommended dismissal of Lieutenant Davis from the navy, but that he had remanded the case for further consideration because the punishment was not severe enough. Later the three-year sentence was recommended.

BELFAST STRIKE COLLAPSES

Last Batch of Men Decides to Resume

Belfast, Feb. 20.—The general strike in Belfast which began nearly a month ago, ended with the decision of the remaining 8,000 boilermakers to return to work on the terms laid down by the employers. These terms give the workmen a 47-hour week pending a national settlement of the controversy.

Washington, Feb. 20.—No shipbuilding wage advances are being considered, Director General Pletz of the Emergency Fleet corporation said, referring to Seattle and other places where labor troubles have arisen.

ARMY MOTOR CARS STOLEN

London, Feb. 20.—Thefts of motor cars on a considerable scale from the American army were disclosed at a preliminary hearing at which John Pomeroy and five other men were charged with receiving motor cars, motor trucks, and stores belonging to the American government. Three privates of the American transport service, Thomas Simpson, John Anderson and Leonard Williams, who are to be dealt with by the American military authorities, admitted at the hearing that they stole the cars.

"ETHER COCKTAIL" INVENTED

Westfield, Mass., Feb. 20.—We have with us today the "ether cocktail." In this new drink is combined the peaceful, ethereal atmosphere of a hospital with all the warmth and exhilarating effects of a sojourn in a saloon. Its ingredients are beer, or near beer and a dash of ether. As for tangible results, well, listen to Mrs. Frank Scheidnes, who claims that her husband, the inventor, was consistently drunk during a long period of experimentation in which he produced the cocktail.

SEVERE STORMS SWEEPING AT- LANTIC DELAYS TRANSPORTS, ALSO THE PRESIDENT'S SHIP

Authorities Investigating Shooting of Clemenceau

(By United Press)
Paris, Feb. 20.—The French authorities with the co-operation of the intelligence officers of the associated powers were conducting a sweeping investigation today in connection with the shooting of Premier Clemenceau by Emile Cottin, the anarchist yesterday. The officials were working on the theory that the attack may have been only a part of a plot against the principal allied leaders. Clemenceau is reported resting easy, and no serious after effects have developed. It is believed. The bullet lodged near the spine in the right shoulder, and may not have to be removed.

Bullet Pierced Premier's Lungs

(By United Press)
Paris, Feb. 20.—The assassin's bullet pierced one of Premier Clemenceau's lungs causing a slight hemorrhage yesterday afternoon it was officially announced today. His condition, however, was reported satisfactory. An X-ray examination now under way was expected to reveal the location of the bullet. Another bullet was found on the floor of his room last night, presumably falling from his clothing.

Doughboys Halt German Girls to Search Cart

German girls generally may hate the American soldiers because of the part they played in winning the war for the allies but one look at this photograph shows that some of them conceal their feelings very well. The picture was taken at Hondengen just after two doughboys of the American Army of Occupation had halted two German girls. A thorough search of the cart the girls were drawing showed that its load was perfectly harmless—only cornmeal.

(By L. C. MARTIN,
Staff Correspondent, United Press)
Washington, Feb. 20.—President Wilson and not the senate will speak the words that will decide whether the American people are for or against the league of nations in the opinion of the administration leaders today. They are in no hurry to reply to Senator Poindexter nor will they rush into the arena against other critics who plan to hammer at the league daily from now on.

Brest Not a Pest Hole

(By LOWELL MELLETT,
United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Brest, France, Feb. 20.—Brest may not be the best military base in the world, but it is far from the worst, in the opinion of officers and men permanently stationed here. Investigation has failed to substantiate the charge that Brest is a pest hole, or that the men are victims of mismanagement.

ANOTHER BANK CLOSED

State Superintendent Takes
Further Action in Big Case.

William H. Schafer of Minneapolis Is Accused of Grand Larceny and Held to Grand Jury.

Minneapolis, Feb. 20.—William H. Schafer, accused by F. E. Pearson, state superintendent of banks, of having manipulated alleged worthless promissory notes and other paper, through a string of 14 banks in Minnesota, to the extent of $500,000, was arraigned before Judge Montgomery in police court on a charge of grand larceny.

His attorney, John F. Dahl, waived examination for Schafer and he was held to the grand jury. Mr. Dahl asked that Schafer be admitted to bail, and bail was fixed by the court at $25,000.

Coincident with this development the Farmers and Merchants State bank of Watertown, Minn., fourth and last in the chain of banks controlled by the Mortgage Security company, was ordered closed by F. E. Pearson, state superintendent of banks.

The state charges that Schafer, who owned a controlling interest in the Mortgage Security company, loaded up the 14 village banks in the company's chain with "seamy" notes aggregating more than $500,000, all unsecured and signed by acquaintances of Schafer, who received no consideration for the paper and who are not financially able to pay the notes.

Wyant Relates Transactions.
C. E. Wyant, president of the Mortgage Security company, who was taken to the city jail for examination and later released, made a statement to Superintendent Pearson and County Attorney William M. Nash detailing the transactions through which the 13 country banks controlled by the mortgage company came into possession of the notes the state charges are of doubtful value. He said each of the notes was accompanied by a written personal guaranty signed by Schafer, the latter pledging himself to see that the notes were paid in full upon maturity.

Total Paper $700,000.

Mr. Wyant, according to County Attorney Nash, said that he had protested against the mortgage company's selling so much paper to the banks, but that Schafer, majority stockholder and real head of the company, had overruled these protests and assured him the notes would all be paid.

Wyant, according to Nash, said that the total amount of paper that went into the bank chain through the mortgage company was approximately $700,000. The state charges that at least $500,000 of this paper is of doubtful value.

DANIEL WILLARD

B. & O. President Opposes Government Holding Lines.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, before the senate interstate commerce committee opposed government ownership, extension of the present control until 1924 and said he believed if the five-year extension plan was carried out, government ownership would be inevitable.

GERMAN TROOPS READY

Government Fears Anarchist
Outbreak at Weimar.

Mine Throwers and Artillery Have
Been Posted at All Strategic Points.

Zurich, Feb. 20.—Dispatches received here report that government troops, apparently anticipating a Spartacist attack, have occupied the railway station and postoffice at Weimar and have posted artillery and mine throwers at strategic points about the city.

Severe fighting is said to have broken out between the Spartacists and government volunteers troops in Westphalia, while hostilities seem to be imminent in the Rhine districts. The fighting in Westphalia apparently centers around Recklinghausen, Dorsten and Gelsenkirchen.

At Dorsten, government troops employed artillery to retake the bridges over the Lippe. The Spartacists looted several shops and homes in Gelsenkirchen, employing hand grenades to smash in the doors. Heavy losses were reported to have been suffered by both sides in these three towns.

ENGINEER BECAME SLEEPY

Long Hours Caused Serious Wreck at
South Byron, N. J.

Albany, Feb. 20.—The rear end collision on the New York Central railroad at South Byron, Jan. 19, in which 22 passengers lost their lives and 74 were injured, was due to "the human element" in the opinion of the upstate public service commission.

The engineer of the westbound limited train, which crashed into the rear of the Wolverine, had been out of bed for about 17½ hours previous to the accident.

May Stop Willard-Dempsey Fight.

St. Louis, Feb. 20.—That an injunction may be asked to stop the Willard-Dempsey world's heavyweight championship match unless the contractual interests of John R. Reider of New York and Tulsa, Okla., in Jack Dempsey is recognized, was the statement of A. M. Frumberg, an attorney, representing Reider, in a statement to the Post Dispatch. Frumberg said that Reider was taking steps to protect his interests and that New York attorneys were now preparing the necessary law steps.

ADOPTS CONFERENCE REPORT

House Sends Postoffice Bill to Senate
For Final Action.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house adopted the conference report on the new $500,000,000 postoffice appropriation bill, after refusing by a vote of 253 to 71 to instruct its conferees not to accept the senate amendment providing $200,000,000 federal co-operation with the states in road construction. The report now awaits action in the senate.

Believes Women's Jobs Are Safe.

New York, Feb. 20.—Dr. George Kirchway, state director of the United States Employment service, expresses the belief that less than 10 per cent of the women who held positions during the war would lose them. "We are not advising employers to release their women workers now that the war is over," he said. "We want them to make room for soldiers and also to retain as many other workers as possible." He predicted the present labor surplus would change to a labor scarcity within six months.

GERMAN PEOPLE HUG ILLUSIONS

Thought Nation Was Right at
Outbreak of War and Cling

HARDEN FLAYS KAISER

Noted Berlin Editor Says Former
Emperor Kept Alive Fires of National Hatred and Advocated
Brutal Warfare.

Brussels, Feb. 20.—In an interview in Le Soir of Brussels, Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft of Berlin, says the German people were misled as to the cause of the war. They believed at the outbreak that Germany was in the right and even believe now that right was on their side.

Emperor William, Harden declared, was drawn into the war against his own wishes, but once hostilities began it was he who kept alive national hatred and was responsible for the methods of warfare for which the world would never forgive Germany.

"People Did Not Know."

"Our people," said Harden, "did not know and do not now know. They loyally believed that right was on their side. If they had not they would not have fought and suffered as they did. They believed in a coalition against Germany. They did not understand that Great Britain, France and Russia had no other object than to protect themselves against the adverse designs of the kaiser. They did not understand that the violation of Belgium was a crime which turned the enlightened universe against Germany. They are still certain that if Germany had not invaded Belgium, Great Britain and France were ready to do so. Personally, I do not think France ever thought of such a thing, and if she had Great Britain would not have permitted it."

"But it was an old idea of the Kaiser. In one of his outbursts he once said to Leopold II, 'If there is war I shall go through Belgium. If she resists, Belgium will not exist any longer.' It is the 39 years of reign of William II, which carried responsibility for the war. It is the teaching which has poisoned youth. It is the spirit of militarism that has been soaked into the people."

"Kaiser William was drawn into it himself, perhaps against his own sentiments; he was not warlike; he was not even courageous and I know that he did struggle to conquer his personal feelings before he could be brought to sign the mobilization decree."

CALLS PROGRAM MONSTROUS

Representative Fess Attacks Society of Nations.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Criticism of the constitution of the league of nations was opened in the house in an address by Representative Fess of Ohio, Republican, who declared the league plan was "monstrous" and full of vicious possibilities.

"Just as soon as the American people shall grasp the vicious possibilities herein included," said Mr. Fess, "there will be such a revolution of sentiment aroused that any man who will subscribe to this perpetual surrender of this republic's future to a vote of foreign nations will be, as he should be repudiated as an enemy to the spirit and genius of American institutions."

HASTILY CALLED TO PARIS

British Premier Will Leave for French

London, Feb. 20.—David Lloyd George, the prime minister, received an urgent summons to return to Paris and will start for the French capital after receiving the delegates of the miners' conference.

Sir Robert B. Hornes, minister of labor, was to have attended the conference with the miners, but owing to illness, was compelled to suspend all negotiations looking to cessation of the industrial unrest.

JUGO-SLAVS ASK INQUIRY

Want Dalmatian Question Investigated
by Peace Committee.

Paris, Feb. 20.—When the Jugo-Slavs' claims for territory on the eastern shores of the Adriatic came before the supreme council of the peace conference it was tentatively decided that they should be referred to the committee to which was entrusted the examination of the Rumanian demands, says a Havas report.

Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister, objected to this plan, declaring that treaties dealing with those territories had been concluded between Italy, France and Great Britain in February, 1918. He said that these treaties were still in existence and consequently the signatories alone were qualified to modify them, acting in agreement.

Prof. J. A. Wilson has tomatoes on inch high in his home hot house. He is preparing to get the first tomatoes in Brainerd and appears to have entered the contest early.
"Oh, East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet" so sang Kipling. Was this student of things eastern right? See "EYE FOR EYE" with the supreme actress, NAZIMOVA, at the Park theatre and judge for yourself. 21
Carl Zapffe has returned from Minneapolis where he attended a meeting of Liberty Loan county chairmen. Of the 35 counties of the state only four chairmen were absent.
George M. Shepard, assistant of L. F. Wolf, consulting engineer, is in the city gathering further data on the waterworks system, to be used in making the final maps, specification, etc.
Are the Orientals more passionate lovers—more vindictive haters than those of the Occident? See the vast difference of character between the two peoples in "EYE FOR EYE," with the great NAZIMOVA as the star at the Park theatre. 11
F. T. Cervin of the Rush City Post force visited the Dispatch office and was shown press, composing room, etc. He is a guest of his cousin Alfred Anderson, this being his first visit in Brainerd.
The season for tractors is now here. An early spring is assured. There will be no great reduction in prices. Orders for early delivery should be placed. Edward Gruenhagen of the implement department, of the Slipp-Gruenhagen company, will go to Minneapolis Friday to attend the automobile and tractor show.
The Minneapolis Journal reported Carl Zapffe in attendance at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers in New York city while Mr. Zapffe was attending the Liberty Loan chairmen meeting in the MIB City. The mining men named H. V. Winchell president, the first time a man from the west was chosen.
At the Best Tomorrow
Another "Polly" of the "Circus." That was the ejaculation of one of New York's most prominent showmen following a private screening of Max Marsh's newest Goldwyn Picture, "The Racing Strain." And Goldwyn is firm in the belief that the millions who were enthralled by Margaret Mavor's "classic of the big tops" will find the new Goldwyn-Max Marsh production no less appealing and entertaining.
"The Racing Strain," a romance of Kentucky and Saratoga, was written expressly to suit the peculiar talents of the vivacious star by Tex Chiswata, author of Geraldine Farrar's first Goldwyn production, "The Turn of the Wheel," and of "Peck's Bad Girl," and a "A Perfect 36," Mabel Normand's recent comedy triumphs.

The Best Foundation for Stylish Cloths

No outer garment, however well cut or tailored, can fit over illfitting under-garments. A Munsing Union Suit, because of the perfect way in which it fits and covers the figure, is the ideal underwear and is preferred every by "women who know."
The fact that we sell more and more Munsingwear union suits every year is significant. There must be a reason. In truth, there are several. In addition to the perfect way in which it fits, Munsingwear is unusually fine in quality, remarkably durable, and surprising in its ability to stand trip after trip to the laundry without losing its shapeliness, perfection of fit or comfort.

They call the action of the German government "a comedy" and say it was well staged. They say Germany always has had faith in the policy of threats and bold talk and that failure of this attitude in the war has not prevented her from continuing it in defeat.

Teach Children to Love Books.

Happy are the children of this day and age in that they have so many good books; in that if they cannot buy, they certainly can borrow from the public libraries. Here is one truth, a very simple truth, that all parents are under obligation to teach their children—that if they can learn to love books they can always forget the irritations of men and things; they can lay aside cares and still their passions; they can put their worries and disappointments to sleep.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Ludwig Larson of Long Lake Township Entertained on 70th Birthday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dahl, 605 Maple street N. E., was the scene of a pleasant birthday party on Tuesday evening when Mrs. Oden Naustvald of Walker, Mrs. Julius Dahl and Mrs. O. D. Larson entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner for Mrs. Ludwig of South Long Lake, the occasion being her 70th birthday anniversary. She was presented with a beautiful rocker. A large birthday cake decorated with 70 candles was the center of the dinner table. Covers were laid for seventeen. Among the guests were her four children, Mrs. Oden Naustvald, Mrs. Julius Dahl, Ole D. Larson and Charles Larson.

Two little grandchildren of Mrs. Larson also celebrated their birthdays being George Dahl and Eugene Larson.

An enjoyable evening was spent in conversation and music. The guests wished her many happy returns of the day.

Walled Town Copied for Nazimova

A famous walled town of Morocco was reproduced for "Eye for Eye," the newest Nazimova production, which will be the Park theatre's attraction Feb. 21-22. The smallest details were so faithfully copied that those who know the great African desert will recognize the landmarks immediately.

This wonderful set was the combined work of Art Director Menes and Technical Director Edward J. Shulter and takes up the entire floor space of the Nazimova New York studios. The scene depicts a lazar and market place. A group of square white-plastered houses with red-tiled roofs surround an open square—on the left the French Embassy—on the right the market place filled with picturesque Oriental stalls of every description—Arabs with their striped burnouses, bare-legged vendors of fruit and wines sitting cross-legged behind their wares, drowsy and nodding, except when some possible purchaser would bring them to the inevitable haggling and bargaining without which no Oriental ever sells anything. A fountain stands in the market place where women and girls come to fill their flasks, made from the skins of goats. Small boys play up and down the broad steps leading to the fountain while pigeons wheel and circle above the motley throng. Here and there a beggar squats in a shady corner whining his everlasting cry for "backsheesh." Through a narrow street winds a caravan on its way to the desert beyond the edge of the city—the slow, swaying camels heavily laden with valuable wares from the town.

Suddenly a shiver of expectancy seems to ripple through the throng and all eyes are strained toward a square block by which a tall Arab is standing. Around him can be seen a score or more of girls—cowering and afraid—the slaves who are to be sold to the highest bidder. Hassouna, played by Nazimova, is among them—the most beautiful of them all.

As this passionate and primitive girl of the desert Nazimova displays an artistry which has never been surpassed.

OLD AGE STARTS
WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be delayed and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Harlem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Harlem Oil is enclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Harlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. At the first sign that your kidneys are not working properly, go to your drugist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Harlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

At the Best Today

As Billy Holliday, "the champion drink-sixer," George M. Cohan, the famous actor-manager, preaches temperance in his latest photoplay, "Hit-the-Trail Holliday," which is to be shown at the Best theatre today. Mr. Cohan imitates the celebrated evangelist Billy Sunday, whose remarkable pulpit utterances are well known.

"I regard Billy Sunday as one of the greatest men of the day," said Mr. Cohan recently. "It was his enthusiasm, logic, ginger and magnetism that prompted me to write 'Hit-the-Trail Holliday,' which was produced at the Astor Theatre in New York in September, 1915.

Billy Holliday is an ardent prohibitionist in the picture, but one of his reasons for being so is because he loves the beautiful daughter of the prohibition leader. He is excellently supported by fine players. The scenario was written by John Emerson and Anita Loos and the director was Marshall Neilan.

DRINK HOT WATER
IF YOU DESIRE A
ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washings from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

War Work Buildings Will Not Lie Empty

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 20.—Temporary buildings housing the emergency wartime agencies are being turned over to the regularly established government departments as fast as they are vacated, under orders of the war department.

The new war industries board building, which was completed after the signing of the armistice, will be turned over to the treasury department. It is located about three blocks from the main treasury building.

The department of labor will take over "Food Administration building No. 2," which has been vacated. The war department is now occupying the fuel administration annex building in the Potomac Park section.

The bureau of the census soon will move into the building known as "D," only a few blocks from the Capitol, and a portion of building "C" in the same neighborhood will be turned over to the department of agriculture.

Australia Has Zinc

(By United Press)

Melbourne, Jan. 27 (By Mail).—That Australia has ore deposits producing the finest grade of zinc in the world, and in quantity to compare favorably with other countries, is revealed in a report received by Acting Prime Minister Watt from the Electrolytic Zinc Co., one of the creations of the commonwealth for organizing the metal resources of the continent.

Although the British empire contains a great portion of the more easily accessible zinc ores of the world, it produced only a very small part of the 195,000 tons of primary spelter or zinc consumed in the United Kingdom alone in 1913. Australia before the war shipped annually zinc concentrates equivalent to 200,000 tons of spelter for supply of which England, France and Italy are now almost dependent upon America.

QUACK, QUACK, QUACK!

 (By United Press)
 Oakland, Cal., Feb. 18.—Ben Woolner, former city attorney, is being sought out by many hunters who wish to inspect his "duckwater."
 Woolner claims to have originated a method for attracting wild ducks. He allowed a duck to dictate into his phonograph a dictating machine, and then he stalled the machine with its new record near his post in the marsh.
 Wild ducks mobilized from all points of the compass when Woolner's duck began quacking, and Woolner claims to have shot the legal limit in 15 minutes.

Afghan Music.

The Afghans have a penchant for musical instruments, and the wealthier classes import some costly makes, though occasionally their manner of using them is somewhat startling. SOCIAL NEWS OF CROSBY GIVEN

Lieut. Al. F. Victor of Lindstrom, formerly of Brainerd and Crosby, Visited Range

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 19.—Cuyuna range interests are represented in the hearings held on the tonnage tax bill and there is nothing new about the situation. It seems the range is doomed to have to go through this proceeding every two years when a new legislature sits. Good arguments advanced in the past must be repeated and impressed on the new legislature.

Mrs. Herman J. Linnenmann visited in Brainerd.

COD KIMBALL ON WINTER OF 1877

Mr. Kimball Has Lived in State 59 Years, 1877 Winter Only One Comparing With Present One

NO SLEDS USED IN THE WOODS

No Frost in Ground, Little Snow. Never a Team Crossed Any Lake all Winter

A. T. Kimball, affectionately known as "Cod," has written the Dispatch about the winter of 1877 which appears to have been a warm one, full of Florida breezes, snakes running around in the grass, violets poking up their heads while the poor loggers tore their hair and cursed things generally. Mr. Kimball writes as follows:

Editor Brainerd Dispatch:

I have seen two or three pieces in your paper this winter what an exceptionally warm winter it has been in a great many years.

Now the writer has lived in Minnesota fifty-nine winters and in all that time I don't know of but one that was warmer than this one and that was 1877. I was working in the pines 45 miles north of Brainerd on Mitchell lake. No frost was in the ground and very little snow.

The firms of Patten & Frey, Campbell & Ami Gold, Clough Bros., Charley Martin with Sam Simpson as foreman, and N. P. Clark of St. Cloud were all logging up here on Pine river waters. They set up their sleds in the latter part of the fall but never hooked onto them, used go-devils all winter. Never a team crossed a lake all winter, had to cut landings on the shore of the lakes, brooks and rivers to land the logs. The most of their logging was around the shores of Mitchell, Eagle, Pine, Daggett, Cross, Rush, Trout and White Fish and the brooks and rivers.

It was what they used to leave before that, called it scrubby, only took the best and that was what was back from the water.

But this winter got them; they had to take it or go back to Minneapolis, headquarters for most all lumbermen those days. There were 99 million drove out of Big Pine river and its tributaries that spring from the shore logging, almost one-third of the cut for that year that was driven down the Mississippi to Minneapolis.

Geo. Nuttall and I crossed Eagle lake the 18th day of March with a boat and hung a boom across the narrow to the west arm to keep the logs from coming out into the main lake. Sam Simpson commenced to drive on Crooked lake the 25th of March and was down with Patten & Frey in Mitchell lake the first of April. The writer killed a streaked snake the first day of March about 1 1/2 feet long and carried it one mile to camp to show it to the rest of the lumberjacks so they would not call me a d—er. It was on a side hill facing the south and he crawled out of his hole and was lying on some dry leaves in the sun. The ice did not get to be over three or four inches thick at the most any time on the lakes all winter. There are a great many now living in Crow Wing county would never know that we ever had such a winter unless some of the old timers that were here at the time would make it known.

Yours respectfully,
COD KIMBALL.

JOYOUS SPRING LAMB

Mr. Bassett recently added to his sheep a flock bought from C. W. Koering of St. Mathias, 52 white faced and black faced.

The lamb has been christened FEBY and is a healthy, vigorous animal. It stands over four hands high and is gifted with a constantly increasing appetite.

BRD. COOPERATIVE CREAMERY MEETING

85 to 100 Farmers Present, Officers are Elected, Reports made on Business Done

JAMES SORENSON IS PRESIDENT

E. E. Taylor Secretary-Manager—$12,812.21 Business in Three Months of 1918

The annual meeting of the Brainerd Cooperative Creamery Association took place on Tuesday, February 18, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The meeting was largely attended there being from eighty-five to one hundred farmers present.

The report given by the secretary, E. E. Taylor, for business done during October, November and December shows that the creamery has made a splendid start. A total of $12,812.21 worth of business had been done during the three months when the cream produced is much less in quantity than the rest of the year.

The amount of local sales as shown by the statement speaks well for the quality of butter being made at the creamery, and shows that local merchants appreciate the value of the new enterprise. $7,180 worth of butter has been sold locally to merchants while only $4,060 worth has been shipped to foreign markets.

The following directors were elected for the coming year:

President—Jas. Sorenson, Merrifield.

Vice President—C. F. Peterson, Long Lake.

Secretary and Manager—E. E. Taylor, Brainerd.

Treasurer—Aug. Nelson, Oak Lawn.

Directors—P. B. Nettleton, Crow Wing; G. S. McCulloch, Oak Lawn; O. F. Wendt, Long Lake.

More stock was subscribed for at the meeting and a large number of stockholders who had interest due them, freely donated it to the creamery association. The following statement shows the business done for the first three months:

Pounds of cream received, 56,174; average test, 31.73%; pounds butterfat received, 16,828; pounds butterfat sold in cream, 355; pounds butterfat manufactured into butter, 16,492; pounds of butter manufactured, 20,232; pounds overrun, 3741. $22,224; average price received per pound for butter, 61.56 cents; average price paid for butterfat, 67.51 cents.

At the Best Monday

To possess a smile and be happy after spending two years in the trenches "over there" facing death every moment and to be ultimately permanently disabled by a Hun explosive bullet which incapacitate one from further active service in the cause of democracy, is the experience allotted to few men. This was the experience of Harold R. Peat, better known through his lecture and book as "Private Peat," and his story has been admirably pictured in the Paramount-Argenta Special picture, "Private Peat," in which Mr. Peat plays the leading role and which will be shown at the Best theatre next Monday.

COMMUNICATION

To the Brainerd Dispatch:

From the columns of your paper we learn that the Rev. Mr. McCrae of Wadena put forth a volley of politics, absurdities and falsehoods and like the unskilled book-agent ties on a tag and calls the contents religion. Had the reverend gentleman avoided the Irish political question we would grant him the pardon that those of his mental calibre receive who come to and leave town, but as he did not we have to correct him for his folly. Mr. McCrae has neither a grasp of the literal meaning of Sinn Fein nor of the spirit of it. Sinn Fein does not mean we "for" ourselves as he states. Those words are of the nominative case and not the Irish dative, so Mr. McCrae if you ever were acquainted with the elementary parts of grammar you would have known better than to translate Sinn Fein as you do. Literally the words of the Gaelic mean "we ourselves" or the government of ourselves, beautifully rendered by President Wilson "self-determination" or as the Catholic theologian Suarez says, "government by the just consent of the governed."

In reference to the case of Ireland Mr. McCrae's logic is very defective. Logic as religion should express truth and truth is not contradictory. If Sinn Fein as the "Irish emigrant" Rev. McCrae states meant we "for" ourselves, how then, except according to his unsound logic, could those Sinn Feiners be hobnobbing with the Germans? The only conclusion is Rev. McCrae's logic has caught the "flu" germ and is in a state delirium.

Mr. McCrae evidently is no American, his only his false logic has caused him to think so, he is exactly what he states of Ireland, a "yellow stream in Brainerd." Henceforth I would advise Mr. McCrae to stick to his religion if he has any, and not go from the frying pan into the fire, but should he wish to discuss Irish questions we born in Ireland as he, but thank the Lord naturalized unlike him, now good Americans who stand for justice truth and patriotism, challenge the offender to a discussion upon any Irish subject from the days of Brian Boru to the Irish rising of 1916, and we will show Mr. McCrae that never in a real Irishman was there a yellow streak—that is to be found only in a fungus.

REV. JOHN CREAN.

SOUTH LONG LAKE

Farmers' Club Met at the Home of F. E. Peterson, Good Roads Resolutions

The South Long Lake Farmers' club met at C. F. Peterson with the house filled to its capacity and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

"We, as one small bunch of farmers ask the powers that be, that if by setting the clock ahead an hour they are unable to remove the morning dampness an hour earlier to correspond, why leave the old clock alone."

Another subject of importance which was discussed, was good roads. We finally tried to draw up a resolution as follows:

"Whereas the majority of all people in all occupations seem to be demanding better roads,

Whereas it is difficult to build and maintain a road with an uneven roadside,

Whereas it being in every property owners power to keep his roadside clean, (the same cropped every year will more than reimburse him for all labor expended on same.)

Be it therefore resolved that this club goes on record favoring good roads, clean roadides and the maintenance of same and asks the assistance of all citizens, town, country and state that this movement may be speeded up."

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

Where Most Sickness Begins
and Ends

BY FRANKLIN DUANE, M. D.

It can be said broadly that most human ills begin in the stomach and end in the stomach. Good digestion means good health, and poor digestion means bad health. The minute your stomach fails to properly dispose of the food you eat, troubles begin to crop out in various forms. Indigestion and dyspepsia are the commonest forms, but thin, impure blood, headaches, backaches, pimples, blotches, dizziness, belching, coated tongue, weakness, poor appetite, sleeplessness, coughs, colds and bronchitis are almost as common. There is but one way to have good health, and that is to put and keep your stomach in good order. This is easy to do if you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and is so safe to take, for it is made of roots and herbs. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., stands behind this standard medicine, and it is good to know that so distinguished a physician is proud to have his name identified with it. When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that these remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

If piles are torturing you, get and use Pierce's Anodyne Pile Ointment. The quick relief it gives is hard to believe until you try it. If constipated, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken while using Anodyne Pile Ointment. Few indeed are the cases which these splendid remedies will not relieve and usually overcome. They are so good that nearly every drug store has them for sale.

Paris, Feb. 20.—As he was entering his automobile, Georges Clemenceau, France's aged but vigorous premier, was shot and slightly wounded.

Five shots were fired by the assassin and it was at first reported that the premier had been wounded in the head. It developed later, however, that the wound was in M. Clemenceau's shoulder and he apparently is not dangerously hurt. The shooting took place at 8:55 a. m. as the premier was leaving his house in the Rue Franklin to go to the war office.

The assassin was an ordinary looking man, dressed as a workman. Five shots were fired, of which one took effect in the premier's shoulder. The assassin was arrested.

Walks Unassisted.
Clemenceau walked into his house without assistance after he had been shot. Colonel E. M. House received a telephone call from Clemenceau's residence, stating it was impossible for the premier to keep an engagement with him set for 10 a. m. It was stated that the wound was "very slight."

Assailant Believed Russian.
It was learned at the city hall that the assailant of Premier Clemenceau was Emile Cattin, 25 years old, born at Creil. The man said his home was in the Montrouse quarter of Paris. The police do not believe the papers he possesses belong to him and are inclined to think him a Russian.

Policeman Goursat, who was wounded in the right eye, although not seriously, by one of the assassin's shots, said that Premier Clemenceau rushed up to the assassin and grappled with him.

Age Makes Difference.
The premier's wound is not regarded as dangerous in itself, but it is felt that there might be serious consequences from it considering the age and infirmities of the victim.

However, it was officially announced that M. Clemenceau was not seriously wounded. The bullet inflicted a flesh wound on the inner side of the right arm near the shoulder, it was announced.

News of the attack on Clemenceau spread rapidly through the city. There were excited comments on the boulevards, in the cafes and public buildings.

Cattin Mauls by Crowd.
A policeman grabbed Cattin. Another man, whose identity is not known, rushed to Cattin's assistance. A crowd quickly gathered and attacked the two men, who were battling with the policeman. Cattin was badly mauled.

Barber Grappled With Assassin.
One of the witnesses of the shooting, Henry Moulin, a barber's assistant, said that when he heard the first shot he believed it was the Americans firing in the air "as they are in the habit of doing," he said. Moulin rushed out of his shop when he saw what was happening, however, crying: "They have assassinated Clemenceau!" He closed with the assassin, Moulin added, and the man threw away his revolver and held up his hands. Walters from a nearby restaurant joined in holding the assassin.

Delay in Peace Seen.
As M. Clemenceau had in hand personally certain subjects now under negotiation, it follows that so far as these are concerned there must be a suspension of activity for the time being. These subjects affect the whole plan of the conference's operation, inasmuch as they relate to the consummation of an early treaty of peace.

Senator Lenroot Stirs the Southerners to Protest—American Army Engineers Are Tired of Making Roads for the French.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington.—Employment of soldiers who are discharged from the military service is one of the questions that have given rise to a great deal of discussion and there seems to be considerable difficulty in solving it. The general belief is that there is employment for any number of men at this time. At least it is said that there never was such a demand for labor of a certain kind, but it is manual labor. A great many people are having difficulty in finding men to do work and the agricultural districts, according to reports, offer plenty of jobs for men if they are willing to take them.

During the debate on the good roads proposition in the post office appropriation bill it developed that a large number of soldiers were being used on roads in states where there are large encampments. It was claimed that this good roads appropriation would afford employment for soldiers, although quite a number of senators scouted the idea that the returned soldiers are going to work as day laborers on the roads. On account of the statement that soldiers still held in the service were being employed on roads a provision was inserted in the bill which makes it mandatory to pay these soldiers the same wages that other men receive for that work, rather than the $30 a month they draw as privates.

Senator Thomas of Colorado told the senate of a soldier who came to him and talked about the many soldiers that were now out of jobs. "They are not looking for jobs," was the comment of the soldier; "they want positions. There are plenty of jobs." It is quite evident that these soldiers do not want to go back to the farm or to drudgery work in shops and mines. It is also apparent that a great many who were formerly in the country districts would like to remain in the cities. All these things are going to make it difficult to find employment for the soldiers when they are discharged.

Once in a great while there may be a little sectional row between the East and West, but it never amounts to anything. The real sectional differences which crop out in debates from time to time are those between the North and the South. Only recently there was a flurry of some proportions caused by a remark of Senator Lenroot to the effect that Southern senators were somewhat irresponsible as to the size of appropriations, particularly when a large amount of the money was expended in the South and nearly all of it raised by taxes in the North. This aroused the ire of several Southerners, who did not mince words in expressing themselves against the utterance of such sentiments in the senate.

Lenroot's words were that "representatives in both houses of congress from the Southern states have very little responsibility from a national standpoint concerning expenditures, providing only the appropriations shall be expended in their own states."

Senator Fletcher of Florida in replying said that he "could understand how something of that sort might be said on the stump in the heat of a political campaign for political purposes, but a statement coming like that in the senate goes beyond all bounds of propriety or of justice and is wholly unwarranted."

Although Theodore Roosevelt is dead the big stick which he invented has not retired from business, according to Martin Dies, the independent Democratic member of the house from Texas, who has been saying just what he thinks. It was while the naval bill was under discussion and the very large naval program was the immediate question before the house that Dies remarked: "The discussions of the bill and remarks of the chairman of the committee on naval affairs rather disclosed the fact that we need the enactment of this naval program, the largest in the history of the world, because we want to go into the league of nations with a bigger stick than anybody else who comes into the league."

A letter received from a soldier in Europe connected with the engineers voices the discontent which has been expressed by many private soldiers who have returned. He says he has been 11 months in France and although the war is ended they are still working on the same old job, breaking stones for roadmaking. This letter was shown to a man in the senate, who said it was altogether likely that a great many of the American expeditionary force would be retained in France and would help to restore the roads and do a lot of work in rebuilding France before they were brought home. While this may be a very laudable undertaking, it is almost sure to cause a great deal of complaint among the troops.

League of Nations Flayed.
Berlin, Feb. 20.—The project for a league of nations has evoked sharp criticism in the German press generally. Some of the newspapers demand that Germany refuse to have anything to do with such a league. Professor Schuecking, vice president of the German association for a league of nations, believes, however, that Germany should be permitted to join the league simultaneously with the other powers. Germany, he argues, must be heard regarding changes in the constitution of the league.

Japanese Wrestlers.
Because of their enormous stature and girth it has often been assumed by foreigners that Japanese wrestlers are a race apart, a strange little group of native giants handed down from antiquity. As a matter of fact the wrestlers, recruited from the fishing, farming and forester classes, have splendid physique to begin with, and become strong and muscular through their long training and the encouragement that is given to their voracious appetites. Friends are very fond of giving them big banquets and are amused to see how much they can eat. One prominent trainer, when invited by his backers to a dinner, took all his students along with him, saying, "All my followers come along with me who can drink a gallon of sake apiece." There is a touch of the Rabelaisian in it, especially when one contrasts it with the usual foreign impression of the dainty tea-sipping, cherry-fetted Japanese.

RICH LAND YIELDS LITTLE

Mosquito Coast Might Be Made One of
the Most Productive Regions
of the Earth.

If Columbus could return today to the Mosquito coast which he once discovered he would find it only slightly changed after four centuries. Columbus was so favorably impressed by his visit to Nicaragua that he attempted to establish a settlement on the Mosquito coast. His project fell through, not, as might be supposed, by reason of the name of the region, for that name was not given it by Columbus, but is a corruption of the name of the Indian tribe that inhabits the strip of land.

Mosquito coast has disappointed other promoters of colonies also, and refuses to be turned into a bustling commonplace trade center. It has made a few concessions in the way of small towns which seem composed of accidental collections of huts. Elsewhere its rivers sweep down from the protecting mountain ranges at the back and flow at will throughout the level lowland of the coast strip. As they near the shore they break into wide lagoons, marsh bound and desolate. The country is like the Nile valley in fertility of soil and flooded plains, but unlike that intensively cultivated district in productivity. There is much casual farming on the dry land of the coast, and the results arouse wonder as to what might be done by a middle-western farmer with an inexhaustible fund of energy and resourcefulness.—"Nikah" in Chicago Daily News.

End of Fighting Galleys.
In the sixteenth century European civilization was menaced by the Turks. Moslem pirates were the peril of the seas, of which they were fast gaining control. This danger was averted and destroyed by Don Juan, commander of the Spanish fleet, and his allies, the Italian squadrons and the Venetian and Neapolitan fleets, at a naval battle with the Turks in the bay of Lepanto. The capture of the enemy's flagship, after the battle had raged an hour and a half, gave Don Juan assurance of victory, so he hoisted the consecrated banner of the Holy League at the mast of the conquered galley, where it could be seen both by friend and enemy. The result was as Don Juan expected—exultation on the part of the Christians and depression and discouragement on the part of the Turks.

After a heavy loss on both sides the Turkish armada was destroyed and Don Juan and his galley, the Reale, were the masters of the Mediterranean. Civilization was saved and the Reale became a ship of destiny. But at Lepanto was sung the swan song of the galley; henceforth the sailing vessels with their wind-tossed canvases were to rule the seas.

French in South America.
Throughout South America French is almost universally read; editions of the classics are in most homes, and book stores are filled with modern French writers of prose or verse, both in translation and in the original.
